Dear Sir

I am venturing to send you our pamphlets in answer to your letter in the Daily Mail of August 16.
I think you will see that we have solved the problem of "Self-Education", through "Humanism" within the reach of Working-men's children.
We shall be deeply grateful for your a sentence in the Daily Mail of August 11th, - "The deadliest peril that can ever threaten us is the peril of our own ignorance" - induces me to tell you of what seems to be an epoch-making experiment made in a Yorkshire mining village -

This an experiment which shows that the claim made by Comenius of "all knowledge for all men" may be met-~~sought~~ to a surprising extent in our Elementary Schools.

As has been well said, - "The tragedy of modern education has been the prolonged failure of Humanism to secure conditions under which its purposes might be realized for the people at large".

Because we have been able to offer Humanism more such conditions,
